When every start takes us to another end...

And so do the way from Late Night Lantern to the Blooms of Perpetuity.

*Though we never made any promise
We laughed and laughed,
We loved and loved,
Until our unconditional love,
Ignited the Late Night Lantern.*

*And we always held our hands tied-So tightly tied,
That our journeys,
Led us together to,
the Blooms of Perpetuity.*

When never did they make any deal they laughed and laughed they loved and loved until their unconditional love,
Ignited the Late Night Lantern.
and they always held their hands tied-so tightly tied, even it be a dream So that their journeys would lead them together to,
the Blooms of Perpetuity.
Further, they dismissed all dismay and looted each others' mind as no desires should sprout the springs of euphoria, and Yet again, it's Sweet Sour Plums.

Falling down and rising up, it's mandatory!
And go for it with all skill,
Pick things that way they come.
When life is too short!
Let the chances in the night,
Don't sleep you down!
Think in wide matters that take you to the point,
Let imagination, see in its beauty,
Keep your mind too well,
Desires let them live within you,
Shaking and making your feet squish,
And explore out, in days and night,
The dreams and imagination in matter.
